

Fryers

Alto-Shaam found that the key to successful frying doesn't lie in making the oil hotter. The secret to successful frying is maintaining a constant oil temperature throughout multiple loads. Alto-Shaam developed gas and electric models that keep fryer oil at an optimum temperature load after load, regardless of the product.

Is one fryer not enough for you? Alto-Shaam can create a battery of our fryers and dump stations in a combination that's right for you. See your Alto-Shaam representative for details on our battery options.
